

'NEW MACHINERY' IN INTEREST OF N. E. I. TO BE ESTABLISHED

Plans for Continuing Struggle
From Outside Indies
Being Worked Out

NOT SEPARATE GOVT

With View to Recovery of Netherlands Lost
Territories

LONDON, Mar. 10.—(INS)—"New machinery" for looking after the interests of the Netherlands East Indies and for carrying on the war against Japan will be established in "certain parts of the world," the diplomatic correspondent of the Aneta News Agency reported today.

The correspondent said plans for continuing the struggle from outside Indies territory with a view to recovery of the lost territories now are being worked out.

The "new machinery," it was stressed, will not in any sense constitute a separate Netherlands Indies government.

The Royal Netherlands Government here, Aneta's informant pointed out, remains of course the sole governing power for the entire kingdom, that is for all the territories of the Netherlands Empire, whether in Europe, Asia or the Western Hemisphere.

Police Unable To Get Any Clues To Killer

The police are still "in the dark" as to the identity of the man who during the past 19 months held up and shot two men and slashed one woman and clubbed another. All three attacks occurred in Falls Township while couples were parked along lonely country roads. Three double murders on Duck Island, Hamilton Township, N. J., are blamed on the same man, believed to be a negro.

The latest attack took place Saturday night at about nine o'clock on Bordentown Road, about a half mile from the Bristol Pike. Antonette Marcantonio, 26, and her escort, John Testa, 25, were attacked as they sat in a car talking.

Testa was shot in the left arm and the injured member had to be amputated at the Fort Dix Hospital, where Testa was stationed as a soldier. Miss Marcantonio was clubbed about the head.

Searching relentlessly for evidence or clues which might lead to the apprehension of the man termed "a killer" by the police, Pennsylvania Motor Police and Bucks County Detective Anthony Russo have met with failure thus far to find anything which will aid them in tracking down the maniac.

A warning was issued yesterday by the police to all motorists not to park on lonely country roads. Arrests are to be made for illegal parking and prosecution will ensue. Lower Bucks County is a big area and despite the fact that a nightly patrol is being maintained the police cannot be at all points at the same time and the order prohibiting parking is to be invoked as a precautionary measure to safeguard the motorists from their own indiscretion.

3 COAL BARGES SUNK

RICE'S LANDING, Pa., Mar. 10.—(INS)—Three 900-ton barges and their precious cargo of soft coal lay at the bottom of the rushing Monongahela River today below the No. 6 dam which they hurled in the break up of a six-barge tow. Four barges in all went over the dam, one hung over its edge and the sixth came to rest before crossing the wall, lock attendants said.

LATEST WAR BULLETINS

City of Cebu Shelled With No Serious Damage

Washington—While American submarines carried the war to Japanese dominated Far Eastern waters, a Japanese cruiser today appeared off Cebu in the heart of the Philippines and shelled the city without inflicting any serious damage.

In one of the briefest communiques of recent weeks, the War Department reported there was virtually no ground or air activity on Bataan since the reported suicide of the Japanese commander in chief, Lieut. Gen. Masaharu Homma.

U. S.-China Make Mutual Aid Pact

Washington—The United States and China, it was learned on high authority today, are nearing conclusion of a mutual aid and economic pact similar to the one recently signed with Great Britain.

Negotiations are being carried out under the lend lease act, but the implications of the new agreement will go far beyond an arrangement for continued aid to China.

American Forces Successful in Leaving Java

In the Southwest Pacific—Contrary to the usually exaggerated claims of Japan, all American forces assigned to the defense of Java made their way successfully from that embattled island before the enemy overran it, it can be revealed today.

Tokyo's announcement that 5,000 British, Australian and U. S. troops "surrendered" upon the occupation of Bandung is erroneous in this respect at least. There never were more than 600 Americans on Java and all were air force personnel.

Tells of "Jap" Atrocities Against Military Prisoners

London—To a House of Commons gasping with indignation, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden today unfolded a story of Jap atrocities against military prisoners and the civilian population at Hong Kong exceeding in barbarism any that have occurred in the recent history of civilization.

Without distinction as to race, creed or color, men were ruthlessly slain and women ravished, Eden said, insisting that the tale of horror had been fully authenticated by eye witnesses.

Many members of the House expressed horror following Eden's statement and obtained assurances that the government would circulate the details throughout the world, notably in Germany and Italy.

Eden said the British Government held not only the Japanese army but Emperor Hirohito and the people of Japan responsible.

British Naval Units Unable to Aid Forces in Rangoon Area

Burma—Unsuccessful efforts of British naval units to aid land forces in stemming the Japanese advance on Rangoon were revealed in an official communique today.

The Japanese suffered heavy casualties, the communique said, but managed to overrun the city and to cut the vital road between Rangoon and Promé.

The communique said: "Withdrawal from Rangoon was precipitated by temporary isolation of British forces at Pegu and landing by the enemy on the north shores of the Baki River and on the west bank of the Rangoon River."

"Japs" Again Raid Port Moresby

Camberra—Japanese warplanes staged another raid on strategic Port Moresby on the southeastern coast of New Guinea today.

The attack was directed principally at the airbases. No estimates of damage or casualties were given.

The British radio reported that Japanese troops have made a third landing on New Guinea at Finschhafen, 60 miles west of Lae.

British Planes Hammer French Channel Ports

London—British planes hammered German occupied French channel ports today after pasting Calais and Boulogne during the night in one of the heaviest RAF assaults since last autumn.

In addition, the Air Ministry reported, a strong force of British bombers again raided the German manufacturing center of Essen, concentrating on the Krupp armament works there.

An official communique said that Essen was attacked in good visibility. Large numbers of fires were seen to spread to great size, while objectives elsewhere in the Ruhr also were bombed. Three British bombers are missing.

During the night and well into the morning, British long range cross channel guns sent salvo after salvo against German shipping in the Straits of Dover.

Harm Done by Alcohol As A Beverage is Stressed

HULMEVILLE, Mar. 10.—In delivering a temperance address before scholars of Neshaminy Methodist Sunday School, Sunday morning, the Rev. Charles Yrigoyen, pastor of Langhorne Methodist Church, told that "The first line of defense is the body; next the home, the community and then the nation." In telling that beverage alcohol is one of the greatest enemies of the individual and of the nation, he refuted the argument made by many that they drink for pleasure, to forget troubles, to bolster selves for ordeals, etc. He continued his talk by showing how alcohol breaks down both the physical body and the morale of the individual, defeating humanity on all fronts when the individual gives in to appetite for such.

COUNTY RECEIVES RATIONING BOOKS

First Shipment of 144,000
Arrives at Offices of The County Commissioners

PLACED IN THE VAULTS

The first shipment of 144,000 war rationing sugar books were received by the Bucks County Commissioners in Doylestown yesterday.

Ernest H. Harvey, clerk to the County Commissioners, stated that the books are small enough so that they can be carried in a vest pocket. The shipment was received from the State Rationing Administration in Harrisburg.

The books, which resemble a sheet of paper with numbers running from one to 28 on one side and instructions on the other, including the type of penalty for violators, will be distributed through the office of the County Superintendent of Schools.

Clerk Harvey also received 153,000 instruction booklets for consumers, and has been notified that 153,000 applications and 1500 instructions for personnel will arrive here also.

The books, which will be as precious as the sugar they will dispense, have been placed in the vault in the Administration Building.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN
(I. N. S. Staff Writer)

The spending spout is out of order in Washington since they put washers on the priority lists.

It dripped $600,000 into the construction of an information center. That is exclusive of murals and mahogany.

$600,000 is the take from 200,000 income tax customers in the lower berths.

Taxes are paid in the sweat of man's brow but the internal revenue department will not accept a damp return as cash.

Altogether the public buildings administration has 25 million dollars to put into temporary construction.

Once again now and open wider—25 million dollars.

Later we may have another information center to supply guides for the first one.

You have five days left to contribute to winning the war and stuff with your income tax payment.

Thought for the day: The business as usual.

Rescued From Drowning By Use of A Ladder

(By "The Stroller")
Residents along Mulberry street, the other day, wondered why a well-known pharmacist was carrying a ladder down the street. But they soon learned the reason for his activity.

A youngster living in the vicinity was playing about the Mulberry street wharf when he fell over into the water. Fortunately the water was not high and the lad was able to stand up in the water.

Calls for help attracted the pharmacist, and going to the scene he saw the boy's position. The pharmacist then ran home for a ladder and returning to the scene rescued the youngster.

ORCHESTRAMEMBERS ESCAPE INJURY WHEN BUS CRASHES

Delayed One Hour In Morrisville

OTHER DRIVER IS FINED

Pedestrian Slightly Hurt While Walking Along Bristol
Pike

Members of Charley Spivak's nationally-known orchestra escaped injury early Saturday evening when a bus in which they were riding collided with an automobile on the new West Bridge street bridge in Morrisville.

The musicians were on their way to the Brookline Country Club, Philadelphia, for a dance engagement, when a car operated by Jule Thompson, colored, of Newark, veered over to the wrong side of the road and collided head-on with the bus. The auto was badly smashed, but the bus was only slightly damaged. No one was hurt.

Thompson was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Neal Nolan in Morrisville and was fined $25 for reckless driving. The bus was operated by Edward Schwarz, of North Bergen.

The Spivak band was delayed in Morrisville for more than an hour before being able to continue on its way.

While walking along the Bristol Pike, six miles west of Bristol, Sunday evening, Kay Andores, Bristol street, Philadelphia, was struck by a car operated by William Dunn, Cornwells Heights, according to the Penna. Motor Police.

Miss Andores suffered a contusion of the heel. She was treated at the Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia.

BRISTOL TO SUPPLY WATER TO GOVT HOUSING PROJECT

Officers of Borough Authorized To Enter Into a Contract

PAY PREVAILING RATE

All Such Water Will Pass
Through A Master-
Meter

Bristol Borough is going to furnish water to the United States Government for the 200 housing units which are now being erected on Beaver Dam Road for defense workers.

Council last night enacted an ordinance authorizing the entering into of a contract by the proper officers of the Borough for supplying water to the project.

The contract was presented to council by Louis C. Spring, chairman of the Water Committee, and read by council by William J. Lefferts, secretary of council.

The contract provides for the installation of a master meter and all water used, both for domestic and fire purposes, will pass through this master meter. The Government will pay the prevailing rates for metered water service which are now in effect. Ten fire hydrants are to be placed in the village and the distribution mains are to be laid at the expense of the government.

After hearing the contract read Council took up for adoption an ordinance giving the proper officers of the Borough the right to sign it. The rules of council were suspended and the ordinance after first reading was taken up for second reading and final adoption.

Council also received a report from the Underwriters' Association which was accepted whereby the volunteer fire companies may answer second alarms, under the direction of the chief of the Bristol Consolidated Fire Department.

Council was called to order by Secretary Lefferts who stated that President of Council, Dr. J. Fred Wagner was unable to be present at the opening of Council but might arrive later. Dennis J. Roche was selected as president pro tem.

Police committee reported that the officers had made eight arrests during the month. Three were committed to prison, two fined, two held for court and one returned to the United States Army.

One incandescent light was reported out, 167 trunks lodged in the station house, one door found unlocked and 13 calls answered by the radio car.

Thirteen were arrested for parking violations. Seven were fined and two discharged.

The annual financial report of the Borough was read by Treasurer William J. Lefferts. The report was ordered.

Former Sheriff's Wife Dies at Doylestown

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 10.—Mrs. Kathryn (Cornell) Hobensack, 78, widow of the late Sheriff B. Frank Hobensack, who died 12 years ago, died Saturday at the home of her son, Justice of the Peace W. Carlile Hobensack, 164 East State street, following a short illness.

She was the daughter of the late Hiram and Jennie Cornell, and was born in Warrington township. After her marriage to B. Frank Hobensack, she resided with her husband in Warrington township and later they moved to Ivyland, where they built a home and lived for a number of years. The late Sheriff Hobensack served Bucks county in that capacity from 1900 to 1903.

Mrs. Hobensack had resided in Doylestown since the death of her husband on March 19, 1930.

Interested in all community affairs here and in the various communities in which she lived, Mrs. Hobensack had a host of friends. She was a member of the Hathboro Neighbors, the Warrington Woman's Club, the Warrington W. C. T. U., and a former member of the Neeshaminy of Warwick Presbyterian Church at Hartsville, where she was active for years in the church life. Several years ago Mrs. Hobensack transferred her membership to the Doylestown Presbyterian Church.

LOOSE GOSSES

Through the Office of Civilian Defense and civilian organizations generally the administration is trying to stop fantastic war rumors and educate the people to limit their war gossip to discussions of authentic reports. The purpose is to withhold information from the enemy and to rid the people of the depressing effect of gloomy rumors.

Rumors thrive on the suppression of truth, and since the suppression of truth is a military necessity the administration can not remove one of the most fertile sources of rumor.

One of the best ways to treat an unfounded rumor is to ignore it. It soon runs its course and gives way to more interesting rumor. Rumor-mongers must have a new one on the tongue at all times or they will lose their following. Somehow the baseless rumor that achieves the distinction of an official denial seems to thrive on recognition.

The gossip that comes out of defense factories and shipping centers is in a class by itself. It is especially harmful, for it has some semblance of an accurate report of official activities. But most of it is based on conjecture and incomplete observation or report. Like the general rumor the best way to dispose of it is to ignore it.

The citizen who declines to repeat war gossip and rumors at once proves that his own morale is high and that he knows how to improve the morale of others.

NO AURORAL MONTHS

An old belief that March and September are auroral months is termed nonsense by Roy K. Marshall, assistant director of the Fell Planetarium in Philadelphia. Mr. Marshall says that while all the details of the intricate mechanism which produces all the effects which astonished the eastern part of the United States last March are not yet fully comprehended, there is no more reason why these displays should be visible in March or in September than in any other month.

The truth is that there is no seasonal variation in auroral displays. They have nothing to do with seasons, as witness the fact that various persons will insist that there are more displays at one time, while others insist that they occur more often at another. Most astronomers might conclude that more displays occur during the winter because that is when they see more of them, for in the winter the nights are long and the greater number of hours of darkness permits more displays to be seen. Most laymen believe more displays occur in August than at any other time, for that is a popular vacation time, and those who leave the city see a dark sky in which the auroral arches and streamers can be seen.

The only periodicity in aurorae is that accompanying sun spots, a period of about eleven years. On the average there will be more displays when spots are most numerous and active. In the winter of 1917-18 a magnificent display occurred, in 1930-32 there were many moderate and a few good displays. In 1939-41 there have been several displays. In between, the displays were few and rather feeble. Of course, the mere presence of sun spots does not induce displays—the sun spots must be very numerous, and there must be considerable activity among them.

For something to tempt the taste for a roast cushion shoulder of lamb, its delicious flavor always has appeal and when served piping hot there's nothing better. The shoulder of lamb is a thrifty meat cut which makes it popular with the budget-minded homemaker. There are other reasons for its popularity too, for lamb is rich in high quality protein and supplies minerals and the B vitamins which are so necessary in the meal, according to Inez S. Willson, home economist.

Stuffed Cushion of Lamb
Have a cushion style shoulder of lamb prepared by your meat retailer.

This cut is made by removing bones from the lamb shoulder, leaving a good sized pocket for the stuffing. Season inside and out with salt and pepper.

Here is a good recipe for a rice stuffing which is very flavorful:

Rice Stuffing
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 tablespoon drippings
1/2 cup uncooked rice
2 cups stock or water
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1 egg
Brown the rice in the drippings, until a golden brown. Add onion, stock and seasonings. Cover and cook slowly until the rice is tender, about 30 minutes. Remove from heat and add beaten egg.

Fill the pocket loosely with the rice stuffing. Sew or skewer the opening. Place the roast, fat side up, on a rack in an open roasting pan. Do not cover and do not add water. Roast in a moderate oven (300 degrees F.), allowing 25 to 30 minutes per pound for roasting.

MANHATTAN CROWNED TITLE-HOLDER OF THE BRISTOL BASKETBALL LEAGUE; WINS DECIDING GAME BY ONE POINT

The Manhattan Soap A. A. was crowned title-holder of the 1941-42 Bristol Basketball League season last night when it nosed out the Proty team, 39-38, in a thrilling contest on the Mutual Aid floor.

The game was just as exciting as the score indicates and was won within the last two minutes of play when Gus Carnvale dropped in a field goal from beyond the center mark of the floor. It was a set shot but most of the players thought that Gus was faking a shot to enable his team-mates to break open.

Gus had only entered the tilt a few minutes before when Rip Kelly went out on personal fouls.

Although Carnvale's goal gave the Manhattans a one-point lead, it did not dampen the chances of the Proty team and only inaccurate shooting prevented the radiomen from copying the verdict. Immediately after Carnvale's goal, Vince Proty had a "pigeon" shot and missed and when the Mill Streeters received possession of the ball again, Buck Proty started a dribble down the floor.

When he saw his path infested with Manhattan players, Proty passed to Bill Mignoni who had an open shot and missed and again with a minute left to play, Vince Proty had a foul shot which if converted would have deadlocked the score. But Vince missed.

The fans were in a little confusion at the finish of the tilt for just as the gun barked, Vince Proty scored a field goal, but Referee Morgan ruled that Proty had stepped over the line and the goal was voided.

The Manhattans had to fight a tough battle to cop the verdict. At one stage of the tilt, the Protyites possessed an eight-point which at the time appeared to be a comfortable lead but pairs of double-deckers by both Joe Roe and Joe Snyder made a different tale of the game as the score was deadlocked and after that neither team had more than a three-point lead at any time during the game.

The contest started out in its usual manner with Joe Roe, for Manhattan, and Vince Proty of the ultimate losers scoring goals. This see-sawing affair went on for the entire first half only the participants changed from Roe and Proty to Joe Snyder and "Jobby" Dugan. Both of the latter two scored 9 points in the first half which saw the Proty team get a one-point, 19-18 lead at half-time.

Joe Roe again stepped into the picture in the second half and it was his turn to score 9 points for the half. "Jobby" Dugan then attempted to keep up with Roe's scoring but fell one point short. Dugan's total for the night was 17 points and made him high man. Roe had 13 points while Snyder had 13 to his credit.

The Proty team lost the services of "Teddy" Sak in the third quarter when he injured his ankle.

Install Officers of Pomona Grange, No. 22

urer, Jesse G. Webster, Middletown Grange; secretary, Margaret R. Slack, Pineville Grange; Ceres, Elizabeth Short, Carversville Grange; Pomona, Esther Pickering, Middletown Grange; Flora, Jean Wright, Edgewood Grange; gatekeeper, Edward Short, Carversville Grange; lady assistant steward, Marie Heston, Middletown Grange; executive committee, Frank Magill, Tyro Hall Grange.

The meeting opened at 2:30 in the afternoon with Frank Magill as Master. A report of the home economics committee was given with Mrs. Watson Rockafellow reading a poem entitled "The Garden." Mrs. Amos Satterthwaite gave a report of a home economics meeting she had attended while at state grange. Mrs. Satterthwaite as chairman of the committee had asked each woman to wear an apron, and dressed in their many styles they paraded around the hall.

J. Howard Paxson, speaking for the agricultural committee, told of the many neighboring farms that had changed ownership during the last few years. He only has one neighbor whose farm is now owned by the third generation in the family. B. Palmer Tomlinson gave interesting articles, cautioning the farmers to use care in shipping and handling livestock to be used for slaughter, as bruises and cuts lower the standard of the meat. Amos Satterthwaite, chairman of the agricultural committee, announced that the dean of agriculture now is the head of the Extension Service in this State, replacing the director of Agriculture Extension. This was opposed by a large committee of farmers from all over the state, but to no avail. The exemption of skilled farm labor from selective service was discussed, and later the Grange through a resolution went on record as favoring this exemption.

Announcement was made that Philadelphia Grange has disbanded, due to lack of interest of sufficient members. After the dinner, which was served by Tyro Hall Grange, the lecturer, Mrs. Walker Jackson, presented Mr.

Willard of the Woman's S. P. C. A. served. Favors were balloons. Ralph who gave a talk on the care of animals, particularly during air raids, and gas attacks. He also showed films of birds.

After installation of officers the new master, Mr. Satterthwaite, named his committees for the year.

7 Women Are Employed In Rohm & Haas Plant

The women are engaged in the plexiglas department. They will eventually be placed in the inspection department, mould-making department, and possibly some in the fabricating department, all duties being in connection with manufacture of plexiglas.

The seven engaged thus far are local residents, the company preferring to employ women from this area.

This is the first time any women have been engaged in activities in the plant proper, services of women only being secured for office and cafeteria duties heretofore.

"Pop says there's an army behind that switch!"

YES, YOUNG MAN. Pop knew what he was talking about when he told you that.

Behind every electric switch and outlet in the five-county area of Philadelphia Electric is an army of men and women. It is due to their efforts that electricity is always and economically on the job.

In their dual function—as brain, heart and hand of Philadelphia Electric, and as citizens and neighbors—these men and women do more than provide electricity. They are buyers of goods, owners or renters of homes, parents of children, patrons of restaurants and theatres... distributors of a yearly payroll of more than fifteen million dollars!

Follow this money on its busy rounds. First, it keeps these people and their dependents living the American Way. Then it flows to stores, garages, oil stations, doctors, dentists, teachers, beauticians... paying wages. It is money thus spent that makes our modern community life possible.

And follow these men and women of Philadelphia Electric on their jobs. Here their skill, training and genius in management and engineering and the work of their hands transform coal and falling water into power for industry... into light, ease and comfort for every home.

Through their efforts, Philadelphia Electric is made to function for the benefit of all the people in such a manner that the area covered by P. E. enjoys low rates and a service that has won nation-wide acclaim.
